Spending Round Won by Ike But GOP May Suffer

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—A bipartisan House vote for increased spending has given President Eisenhower a major legislative victory but may cost Republicans in Congress some 1940 campaign ammunition.

With heavy Democratic and Republican support, the House late Tuesday approved a $2,657,402,944 supplemental appropriation bill after handing its Appropriations Committee one of its worst setbacks in years.

The principal victory for Eisenhower lay in inclusion of 100 million dollars for the foreign aid development loan program. He had asked 225 millions but the committee had allowed nothing.

In addition, the House increased funds for eight other agencies for the remaining three months of the present fiscal year, though not as much as Eisenhower had asked.

None of the spending will directly affect the 77-billion-dollar budget Eisenhower has proposed for next year.

As the bill went to the Senate it carried $177,800,500 more than the committee had approved but still was $207,531,532 below the total requested by the President.

Extra money added to the committee's usually inviolate recommendations were the 100 million for the Development Loan Fund, $50,300,000 for defense education programs, $100,000 for the Recreation Resources Review Commission, 2 1/2 million for the District of Columbia, $4,300,500 for in-patient care of veterans, $2,100,000 for the Treasury Department, 18 million for the Post Office Department and $20,000 for the National Bureau of Standards.

Much of the added money was asked to pay for salary increases Congress voted last year.

Although the money for the Development Loan Fund fell 12 1/2 million dollars short of what the President had sought, it was the only one of the 100 million dollar fund to be added to the bill by the House leaders.

The fund is used to make loans to friendly foreign nations for Continued on Page Two

65 Fires Put Out in State Tuesday

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sixty-five forest fires were extinguished in Arkansas yesterday by foresters and volunteers.

For the first time since the fire hazard became critical two weeks ago, all reported fires were put out before nightfall.

The Arkansas Forestry Commission said today fire danger remained serious in north Arkansas, which has had no rain for some time.

Rain was predicted for the state tonight and in some sections this afternoon.

A total of 3,525 acres was burned over yesterday, bringing the March destruction figure to 22,533 acres.

Two Children Found Slain in New Jersey

HIBERNIA, N.J. (AP)—Bodies of two babies were buried in a clothes basket in a rural home Tuesday night. One had been bludgeoned, the other suffocated.

The children, Katherine Church, 2, and her brother, Kenneth, 9 months, were found swathed in a blanket.

Police Chief Ernest Powers said the mother, Ellen Church, 38, a former schoolteacher, will be given a psychiatric examination. No charges have been filed.

Brooks Church, 40, a microbiologist, came home from work to find his wife and two other children, Elizabeth, 14, and Stephen, 9, under the influence of drugs.

The children later told police their mother gave them sleeping tablets and told them they were calcium pills.

Powers said Mrs. Church told Robert Burdge, a friend of the family, that she had killed the babies.

Her husband quoted her as saying, "They are gone away and are never coming back."

Church told police she cannot believe it. She was a wonderful wife and mother.

The Churches moved here several years ago from Youngstown, Ohio. Church, 40, works for the Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co. at nearby Morris Plains.

The bodies of the babies were found in a playhouse 50 feet from the Church home.

Police said Katherine had been bludgeoned with a blunt instrument but they had not determined what it was. Kenneth died of suffocation, police said.

Hibernia is about 40 miles west of New York City.

Hempstead-Nevada Regional Library Is Formed at Meeting Here, Officers Are Named

Formation of a regional library to be known as the Hempstead-Nevada Regional Library was decided at a combined session of the Nevada and Hempstead County Library Boards at Hope, earlier this week. The library will serve a population of 39,861 and an area of 1,351 square miles. This expanded program will employ two to four additional full-time workers.

Duncan McRae Jr. of Prescott was named chairman of the Hempstead-Nevada Regional Library Board. Other members are Mrs. B. A. De Lamar, Russell Moberg, both of Prescott, D. B. Meadows of Willisville, Mrs. Johnnie Harrison of Willisville, Mrs. J. W. Adams of Willisville, E. R. Brown of Adams, J. Jones and J. H. Jones of Hope, Norman Jones, Elvins, Charles Raymond of Hope and Mrs. Hugh Gardner of Spring Hill.

Also attending the meeting were Mrs. Karl Neal and Miss Freda Schader of the Arkansas Library Commission and County Judge Phyllis Owen of Prescott.

Mrs. Howard Fritchard was named librarian and secretary of the newly formed board. Fritchard received her Bachelor of Science in Education degree from Arkansas State College and BS in Library Science from the University of Illinois. This library degree is earned in one year after graduation from a four-year college. She was formerly librarian at Conway County Library and White County Library before coming to Hempstead County Library in 1947.

Mrs. Neal explained the Federal Aid program available to regional library setups in Arkansas and under which the Hempstead-Nevada Regional Library will operate for the next two years. Administration of the program will be under the direct supervision of the Arkansas Library Commission.

The Federal Aid program for Hempstead-Nevada Regional Library will include a bookmobile which will carry 100 books, staff to operate the bookmobile and $10,000 for a regional book collection. The estimated cost of the bookmobile is $7,500. At the end of the two-year Federal Aid program the bookmobile and the $10,000 book collection will remain in the Hempstead-Nevada Regional Library if the two counties will assume the financial support of the additional program.

Hempstead County Library has operated on a one mill library tax for a number of years. Last November Nevada County passed the one mill library tax.

The Regional Library will operate on monies from these tax sources plus aid from the Arkansas Library Commission. And for two years will receive the Federal Aid for Libraries.

The Arkansas Library Commission aids county libraries in Arkansas in four ways. Each county

Alford Fails to Block Marshal Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House yesterday rejected a move by Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark) to block an appropriation for expenses to station deputy U. S. marshals at Little Rock for integration duty.

Alford said sending the marshals to Little Rock last fall in anticipation of possible school integration trouble was an insult to the city. He sought to eliminate a $390,000 appropriation to pay expenses of the marshals.

The House rejected his move on a standing vote of 43 to 153.

Alford's move came during consideration of a bill to provide additional funds for various departments for the present fiscal year, which ends June 30.

Alford cannot sit there and not call attention to this insult to my city," he said. "I must protest."

Rep. John Rooney (D-N.Y.) objected to Alford's stand.

"It was deemed incumbent by the Justice Department to send the marshals to Little Rock to enforce the law and keep the peace," he said.

Rooney said the appropriation was merely to pay for services already rendered.

Gazette Files Answer in Libel Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An answer was filed by the Gazette Publishing Co. yesterday to a half million dollar libel suit which Arkansas Democrat reporter Bob Trout brought against the company.

The answer said the Gazette "in good faith and in the public interest" published a transcript of tape recordings two pinball machine operators said were of telephone conversations in connection with a payoff to Trout.

The pinball machine operators, Cecil B. Hill and Harold P. Dunaway, said they gave Trout $2,000 not to write stories about their operations.

Trout had denied receiving any money from the men. In his suit, he contends the recordings were forged and spliced.

The Gazette's answer said the transcript it published was a "true, or substantially true," reproduction.

The answer asked that Trout's suit be dismissed.

Dr. Hall Is Kiwanis Club Speaker

Dr. Andrew Hall, pastor of First Baptist Church of Fayetteville and currently engaged in a week long revival service at First Baptist Church of Hope, was guest speaker before the Kiwanis Club at its weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday.

Dr. John H. McClannahan, pastor of First Baptist Church and Don Edmondson, visiting musical director of Magnolia, were also guests on a program arranged by Henry Haynes.

Charles Burchett Jr. and Herbert Griffin were inducted as new members in brief ceremonies by Jack Lowe.

Reports on the forthcoming 16th annual Kiwanis Club Minstrel, set for April 9 and 10, were heard. Daily rehearsals are being held. The first of the minstrel will be held Thursday night, April 2, at the McCaskill Community Building in McCaskill at 8 p.m. The McCaskill Methodist Church is the sponsor.

Ike Believes Summit Meet Only Way to Get Any Sort of Agreement

Russia Warned Against Trying to Force Meet

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower indirectly warned Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today against trying to force a summit meeting through bluff or blackmail. But he said that in seeking real settlements, Khrushchev is the man to negotiate with.

Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, split apart in the lines they took in almost simultaneous statements about the summit conference after they have agreed to make to Khrushchev.

Here is what happened:

At his first news conference in Washington since conferring with Macmillan last weekend, Eisenhower said he is willing to go to a summit meeting that is justified. He spelled out his view of what that means—that an earlier East-West foreign ministers conference should make progress toward easing world tensions.

In an appearance before Parliament in London about the same time, Macmillan was asked what he thought about the prospects for a summit meeting this year. Regardless of the outcome of the foreign ministers' negotiations, he replied, "As regards the likelihood of a summit meeting, I would say that everybody seems to think that there will be one."

The emphasis in the two presentations was different. Eisenhower emphasized this requirement for prior progress before a summit conference. Macmillan treated a summit conference as almost inevitable.

Under questioning Eisenhower said it is clear that Khrushchev is the only man who has the authority really to negotiate.

Therefore, Eisenhower said, he thinks there is some validity to the argument that there should be talks with the Kremlin now. He's got to be in the picture pretty well, Eisenhower said.

Byrd Urges Veto of Spending Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said today he urged President Eisenhower to veto Democratic-sponsored spending bills and take his fight for a balanced budget to the courts.

Byrd, who heads the Senate Finance Committee, said he had pledged his active support for an all-out fight to keep income and expenditures in balance in the fiscal year beginning July 1. He conferred with Eisenhower at the White House.

"If the country doesn't support the President's position, I'm afraid we may have a deficit that runs as high as six billion dollars," Byrd said in an interview.

Must Find a Solution for German Peace

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he believed the Western Allies will have to meet at the summit with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to get any sort of valid agreement on German problems.

But no one is going to command the United States and the other Western powers to show up at a top level conference, the President told a news conference cynically.

"The West will not be bluffed or blackmailed into going to the summit," he said.

Eisenhower thus said anew, although indirectly, that his attendance at any summit meeting will be contingent on progress in an earlier conference of East-West foreign ministers.

The President was asked specifically whether he attaches any conditions to meeting at the summit with Khrushchev and this country's Western Allies.

At the time of Eisenhower's talk with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan there were reports from British quarters that Eisenhower had agreed unconditionally to do so. A summit meeting in November.

Today the President noted that the treaty for the Western Allies to meet with Khrushchev regarding a summit conference has now been coordinated with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. That treaty, he added, will be made public soon, and the answer to the matter of any conditions in connection with a summit meeting will be disclosed in that note.

But he went on to say that his convictions concerning a summit conference have been known for years and that he never has changed them.

He added he doesn't expect to change them unless something cataclysmic develops.

There was an obvious allusion to his statements as recently as a week ago, that he would go to a summit meeting if developments in the meantime should warrant it.

Lower Food Prices Dip Living Costs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lower food prices pushed the nation's living costs down one-tenth of one percent in February.

The Labor Department Statistics Bureau said its index declined 0.1237 percent of the 1947-49 base. This is the highest February index point on record, however, 1.4 percent above last year.

For January, the index stood at 123.8, a fraction under the record of 123.9 set last July and equaled in November.

All consumer price items, except food, averaged higher in February. Food prices dropped seven tenths of a percent, resuming a decline interrupted in January after five consecutive months.

Ewen C. Clague, Labor Department statistics commissioner, said the prospect for the next few months is that living costs will continue in a narrow range. He said food, land to go up in the late spring and summer, but this expected rise may be moderate this year and counterbalanced, to some extent by expected declines in durable goods and clothing.

Tibet Revolt Against China Is Spreading

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Tibetan revolt against Chinese Communist rule has spread throughout the mountain land, an Indian newspaper close to the Nehru government reported today.

Reports persisted fighting had subsided in the capital of Lhasa, with the Reds still in command. But the pro-government Hindu Times said the rebellion had spread to all corners of Tibet and that the Dalai Lama was "not in Chinese hands."

There was no official confirmation of the Hindu Times report.

The whereabouts of the 23-year-old Asian monarch, worshipped by Tibetans as the reincarnation of Buddha, and his role in the rebellion still were vague.

"According to one version, he went underground before the fighting started in Lhasa five days ago. He is now guarded by Chinese pickets."

The more general theory, however, was that the youthful going was still in his 1,000-room hillside palace under Communist surveillance.

A spokesman for the Indian government, which has the only foreign diplomatic mission in Lhasa, said he had "no correct information" on the latest developments in Tibet.

On Formosa, Chinese Nationalist officials, cheered by the revolt, said that Red China was rushing strong reinforcements to Tibet, where the occupation force has been estimated at 50,000 troops.

Chiang Kai-shek met with top leaders of his government in Taipei to discuss ways of capitalizing on the Tibetan uprising. The Chinese Nationalists — like the Communists — still consider Tibet a part of China.

Bingen Forms Improvement Organization

The Bingen RCI is announcing a pancake supper to be held on Thursday night, April 9 at the Community Building. This organization, started in October, 1938, is the fourth of its kind in Hempstead County and like the others, have outlined a vigorous program for 1939.

The local school building, not in use since the consolidation with Nashville, has been made available for meetings and other community activities and the club hopes to raise money to make needed repairs. Install a pump in the well and landscape the grounds. Some new shrubbery has already been planted and landscaping project is next.

Cecil Bille of the U of A Experiment Station is helping with the landscaping. Out door cooking facilities, picnic tables, a parking area and a recreational area figure in the planning.

In addition to the supper a number of prizes will be given away during the evening. These prizes are being made available by merchants and individuals in the area. Earl Marindale is president of the organization.

Audrey Doesn't Want to Be a Fat Star

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I don't want to play Lady MacBeth or be a big fat star," said Audrey Meadows. "I just want to keep working."

"I'm a kind of sleep-happy child. I've loved every show I've been on."

"And Julian-haired Audrey, the Chinese-born daughter of an Episcopal missionary, she used to teach Sunday School, has been a standstill in practically every branch of the entertainment field. She started as a concert singer at 10. She sang and danced in Broadway musicals. She became known as television's brightest, breeziest young comedienne.

After a two-year layoff, she returned her career as a quiz show performer and guest star. This Friday night she tries a new role, pinch-hitting for Edward G. Robinson.

A part of last week in Dallas with Mr. and Mrs. Hody Butler of Murrow. "I'm glad they had a sinking spell and hired me for this job," she said, cheerfully. "I've always wanted to be a newspaper gal."

"I've been very fortunate in the shows I've been on and the people I've worked with," said Audrey, who has a nice trait of always speaking well of the other fellow.

"She brings a great gusto to living and enjoys a varied life. Because the only musical instrument she can play is the piano—with one finger—she plans to take lessons on the guitar."

"I suffer from the feeling there isn't time to do everything I want to," she said. "But I guess if there were time, that would be complete boredom, wouldn't it? It would be frightening."

Her favorite color is bright red. She says it makes her feel good. She likes to read, water ski, cook and watch baseball and football.

"The only thing that bores her is a 'closed mind.' The thing that attracts her most is 'a curious mind.'"

"So many people today are negative," she said. "I believe in kindness and a faith in something or someone beyond ourselves. If we all practiced kindness on a larger scale, we'd have fewer misunderstandings on all levels."

"I don't believe much in anger."

School Fire Disaster Report Again Delayed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Release of a report on an investigation into the disastrous Negro boys Industrial school fire was held up again today.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus he has not finished studying the report, compiled by State Police.

Twenty-one Negro teen-aged boys died in a pre-dawn fire which razed a locked dormitory at the Wrightsville school March 5.

The report was completed late last week, but Faubus was on vacation at the time.

He said yesterday he would release the report as soon as he had read and studied it. He declined to give details of portions he already had studied except to say there was no indication of arson. Parents of seven of the victims have filed claims totaling $187,000 against the state, alleging the fire resulted from negligence of state employees. Other claims are expected.

Records released yesterday show the state paid $9,424 for funerals for the 21 victims.

The state's first telegraph line followed the Old Butterfield Stage Coach route from St. Louis, Miss. to Fayetteville in 1860, a year before the wires were strung from Memphis to Little Rock.

The notch-like southwestern corner of the state's boundary was the subject of disputes inherited from the French rulers of Louisiana.

Packing Plant Blast Leaves Several Hurt
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — An explosion at the Wilson and Co meat packing plant here today injured several persons.

Seven persons were taken to a hospital. One was unconscious and bleeding from the nose and mouth, another moaning in pain.

Reportedly 8 to 15 persons were in the building ripped by the blast. A company employee said the explosion apparently resulted from an accumulation of ammonia fumes.

Fire equipment was called to the plant and all other employees evacuated.

DOROTHY DIX Mom Can't Claim Marital Mandate

Dear Dorothy Dix:
My 26 year old son is engaged to a lovely girl one year younger. They are very congenial, attend the same church, have the same circle of friends and both are talented artists. After a six month engagement the girl has decided she doesn't want to marry for fear of hurting her mother. The mother wants to pick a husband for her daughter. I think it's a sin to interfere like that. These two young people love each other and are heartbroken over the idea of separating. — Steady Reader.

Dear S. R.: A girl of 26 should have enough spunk to stick up for what she knows is right. We've seen the end of the age when parents selected mates for their children. These two loved ones should marry. They are old enough to know their own minds and exercise reasonable judgment.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
My fiancé is a very handsome fellow and I adore him. Our wedding date was set for May, my gown was bought, and all arranged. Smith said the fumes were so thick they almost overcame him as he helped remove the first injured. Part of the plant roof caved in.

ments made. Then something happened. He hasn't been near me in three weeks. I've called him several times but always get his mother or sister and am told, "Bruce isn't here just now, I'll give him your message." How can I get him back? I love him too much to consider the engagement ended. — Ruby.

Dear Ruby: Instead of getting your fiancé back, you'd better make arrangements to take the dress back. Bruce apparently has gone chicken and doesn't care to be married at this time. See him even if you have to camp on his doorstep and find out just where the situation stands.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
From time to time you have suggested books for teen-agers that tell how to conquer shyness and acquire poise. Now that I find myself sorely in need of some thing like this, I can't recall one of them. My 14-year-old daughter has suddenly developed a terrific inferiority complex and certainly needs to rebuild her self-confidence. As a child she never lacked it. Will you give me the names of a few books that will help her? — Mrs. M. W.

Dear Lady: Please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for

Khrushchey Treats Aides Like Children

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — That Khrushchey, the Soviet premier, treats his foreign ministers and aides like children is a prime example of the difference between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchey.

Khrushchey treats his foreign ministers and aides like children, while Eisenhower treats them like adults. Eisenhower, like a bookkeeper, in charge of small details. Perhaps no president in history ever depended more on his Secretary of State than Eisenhower.

er on John Foster Dulles. It is hard to imagine Khrushchey at a loss for a word or an idea at a summit get-together. Gromyko never showed up. He already has dismissed as a waste of time a foreign ministers meeting before a summit conference.

Dulles has been Eisenhower's strong right arm in foreign affairs. It is doubtful, because of his cancer, that Dulles can go overseas to a summit meeting with the President.

To be sure, Eisenhower, before he goes, will be well briefed on details by his State Department aides and perhaps by Dulles himself.

But on a minute by minute basis that won't be the same as having Dulles with him. The President respected Dulles' judgment, relied on him, listened, was guided by him.

It is no wonder Eisenhower, contrary to Khrushchey until recently had insisted that any summit meeting must be preceded by a foreign ministers conference which showed some progress and agreement before the top men met.

If Eisenhower now seems to be attaching less importance to a foreign ministers meeting it may be due more to Dulles' illness than any argument by Khrushchey or influence by British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Besides, reliance on Dulles, there's another good reason why Eisenhower should put much store on a foreign ministers meeting as a preliminary to the summit conference. Reliance on foreign ministers to work things out has been a traditional method of Western diplomacy, not summit meetings.

There are broad differences also between the President and the Russian premier.

The chubby, bald, extroverted Khrushchey — if we had been raised in this country — would have been called a pusher. He has been pushing all his life. He is an innovator and an experimenter.

Eisenhower, although he can play slam-bang politics at campaign time, is essentially a traditionalist and a conservative. He has done no innovating socially or economically here at home. He is a preserver.

His long and successful military career by itself alone would have been an enormous force in making him a respecter of tradition.

Khrushchey, on the other hand, pushed his way up through the cannibalistic ranks of the Communist party. Once at the top he kept pushing. First, he pushed aside the traditional idolatry lavished on the memory of Stalin; next he shoved aside his co-equals, the other heirs of Stalin, like Molotov, Malenkov, Bulganin, Beria.

Meanwhile, he was trying to push the world in the direction he wanted — toward communism. He has done it with threats, with arms in Hungary, economic aid to the backward countries, infiltration in the Middle East, and blandishments toward the rest of the earth.

He has butted heads with Communist party big-wigs to send Soviet economic development spurring ahead. He even talked — but stopped talking after the Hungarian revolt — about letting Communist parties elsewhere relax.

Now he is determined to shake loose the East-West deadlock which has existed in Germany since World War II.

The summit meeting will be a conference between a rambunctious, daring but shrewd man and a conservative who has no revolutionary ambitions but is determined to preserve what the West holds, yielding not an inch to the advantage of the Soviet Union.

TIME CANNOT DIM — Lilies and a cross symbolize the spiritual life of America as Easter approaches. The monument commemorates what is believed to be the first religious service in North America, a mass celebrated by Dominican friars on Aug. 15, 1559. They were accompanying the Spanish explorer Don Tristan de Luna.

News Briefs

LONDON (AP) — Mikhail Suslov, high-ranking Kremlin official, flew back to Moscow today after a 10-day visit to Britain.

Suslov led a five-man Soviet parliamentary delegation here.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Operations on the worldwide Scandinavian Airlines System, crippled by a 24-day wage dispute, began returning to normal today.

A settlement was signed giving cockpit crews on jet flights pay increases up to 20 per cent, a cut in the work month from 100 to 85 flying hours for jet crews and improved insurance and pension benefits.

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — Bowing to public protests the government has decided to tone down a bill that would have given it power to arrest and hold virtually anyone.

The bill was aimed at crushing the African National party, which was outlawed a month ago after demonstrations by its militantly nationalist members had resulted in violence in neighboring Northern Rhodesia.

BONN, Germany (AP) — West German Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss will visit the United States April 12-30. Strauss will inspect several rocket research centers and attend an air show at Las Vegas, informed sources said.

THE HAGUE (AP) — The Dutch government announced today Crown Princess Beatrix, 22, has accepted an invitation to visit New York in September. She will attend the celebration of the 350th anniversary of English navigator Henry Hudson's exploratory voyage up the Hudson River.

U. S. Drops Red Charge on Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department said today it is dropping a proceeding designed to label the Independent United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America as a Communist-infiltrated union.

The proceeding was started in 1955 before the Subversive Activities Control Board, under provisions of the 1954 Communist Control Act.

The department gave the board two reasons for abandoning the action — unavailability of certain of the firm, was taken to a hospital in serious condition. Attendants said Charles Edgerton, the company's chief geologist, suffered less serious injuries.

Special Jury to Probe Coin Machines

NEW YORK (AP) — A special federal grand jury was impaneled today to investigate the coin-operated machine industry — with special emphasis on possible jukebox racketeering.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Augustus Marshfield told the grand jurors there was "a possibility that we will explore certain union connections with the industry to determine whether they have entered into any illegal agreements."

U.S. Dist. Judge John W. Clancy, in swearing in the grand jurors, stressed that their activities and the proceeding before them must be protected by secrecy.

key witnesses and the fact that a number of individuals whose membership in the union prompted the proceeding have since withdrawn.

Seven Officers Use Persuasion

HUDSON, N. Y. (AP) — Seven policemen traded gunfire with a man for more than an hour today before he was persuaded by his psychiatrist to leave his home.

The police were summoned by Mrs. Novel McKee, who told them her husband had thrown knives and fired a rifle at her. No one was injured.

Police said McKee, 34, had been under psychiatric treatment since his discharge from the Marines.

Probe Sought in Newspaper Strike

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Two veteran Missouri state legislators called today for a Senate investigation of the month-long labor dispute that has halted publication of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, with the possible view of declaring all newspapers' public utilities.

Should such legislation be enacted, the state could seize the newspaper and force striking members of the American Newspaper Guild to go back to work. To do so the state would have to invoke the 12-year-old utility no-strike act.

The strike started 22 days ago when Guild members walked out. The Guild turned down the latest management proposal Sunday. The dispute centers on a pension program.

Oil Co. Plane Crash Kills One

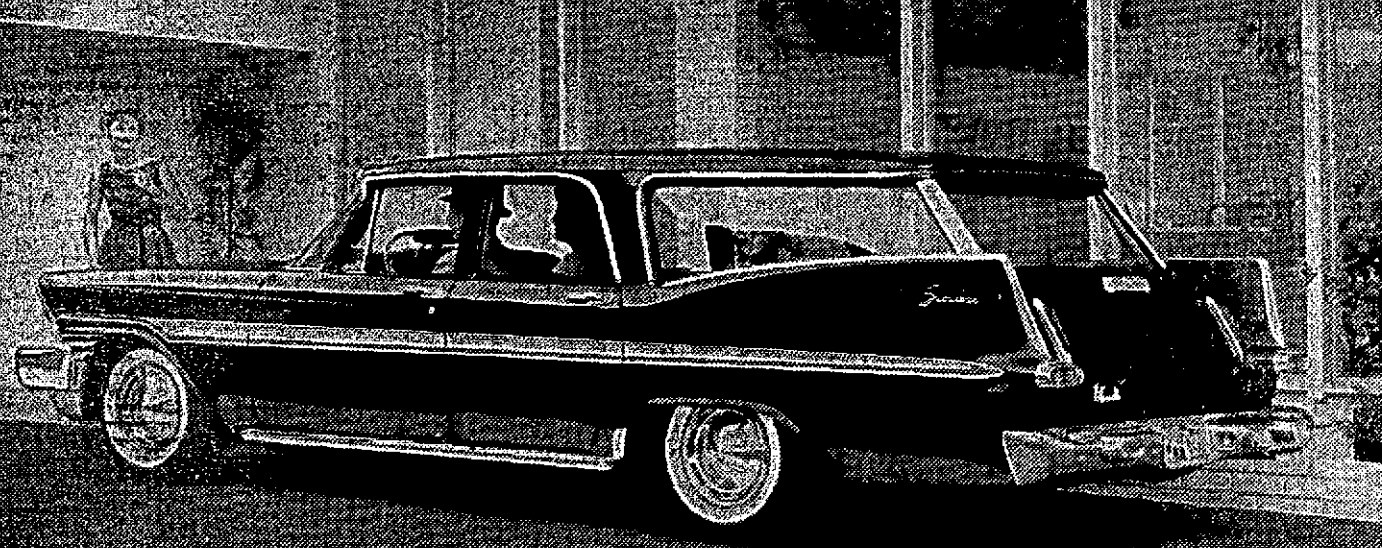

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An oil company plane taking off today in dense fog narrowly missed a house, crashed in flames and killed the pilot.

Rescuers snatched two injured men, the only others aboard, from the burning wreckage.

Extension of Jobless Pay Is Debated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today debates extension of the temporary federal jobless pay program, with indications it will adopt the three-month tapering-off bill already passed by the House.

The Senate Finance Committee Monday approved the House bill with only a minor amendment. It rejected a substitute proposed by 18 Democratic senators for a 15-month extension with liberalized provisions.

Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.), chief sponsor of the 15-month proposal, told a reporter it would be offered in today's floor debate. But there appeared to be small chance it would win out.

The House-passed bill, which was endorsed by the Eisenhower administration, would not permit any person who becomes jobless after April 1 to qualify for the temporary benefits.

But it would allow those who have qualified before April 1 to draw their checks up to June 30 this year. About 405,000 persons would benefit at a cost of 78 million dollars.

The Hendrix Twins From Hope Are Doing Very Well in New York as Interior Decorators

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story is by Rhea Talley writing for the Memphis Commercial Appeal, Sunday, March 22.

By RHEA TALLEY

NEW YORK, March 21 — All the theories that various people have formulated about the lives of identical twins, with their tendency to run in identical lines, are fully justified by Jack and James Hendrix from Hope, Ark.

Both twins are decorators in New York. They both began life as fine artists, but decided that it was prudent to commercialize this talent, and so went to study at Parsons simultaneously. Though employed in the same field they have worked for the same firm only during a period in Shreveport, La., when both were connected with Friend-Piper.

James Hendrix is with William Pahlmann, one of the country's best-known decorators, who is getting press notices at this moment because his firm decorated the dressing room that Honorable Clegg will occupy during the run of "First Impressions," the new musical comedy based on "Pride and Prejudice."

Jack Hendrix is with Edward Worreley, one of the country's top designers of modern furniture, whose firm is Dunbar.

Decorating residences, offices and shops is the chief occupation of both twins. One of James' most interesting assignments was the office of the Governor of South Carolina, which he designed in Eighteenth Century furniture, but really antique and part reproduction. The firm designed even the Georgian paneled woodwork which lines the office, and hung on the walls pictures of birds and flowers found in South Carolina.

Design For Crossett.

As for Jack, one of his thrills was to design some other city (Dunbar often has long-distance assignments like that) and to discover when the sketches were almost finished that the room would be in Crossett, Ark., in a lumber company office.

James has done also the Philadelphia Country Club. Jack has decorated the Arthur Murphys' home in Rye, N. Y., on Long Island Sound.

And the twins did as a joint enterprise the offices of the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Decorators. Both were new members at the time and the A. I. D. liked the idea of having new members do their new rooms.

When James and Jack talked about their twin careers, they were in Pahlmann's office that will soon be moved and so were seated in a conglomeration of fascinating objects ranging from buffaloes embroidered on silk to large Chinese porcelain vases.

In one corner stood an assortment of knickknacks that James said were destined for a single apartment — "and that's only the beginning of it."

The twins were the last two of 10 children (and exclamation point, as Jack put it) of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hendrix of Hope, Ark. Their mother still lives in Hope; their father died several years ago, and the other eight siblings are scattered over the South. Their paths diverged a bit, for Jack found a job that he loved with the well-known Raymond Lowmyer, helping on such assignments as Lord and Taylor's Bird Cage Restaurant and Levee Bar, and the suite in the Waldorf Towers.

James disliked his new job, which was with the fine firm of W. and J. Sloane but in the contract division that did institutional work, like churches and public buildings.

James had a hand in the state capitol at Albany, N. Y., but drawing large perspectives and Elizabethan chairs was not his dish of tea. He could hardly wait until "by camping on their doorstep" he got a job with Thedlow, which specializes in homes.

Together the twins went to Europe for three months, returning only when their money ran out, and then their father's death took them back to Arkansas. It seemed then to both that they would like to work in some place besides New York; that was their era in Shreveport.

"But New York was in our blood" and they came back here in 1955, James to work with Pahlmann and Jack to teach interior design at Parsons until he joined Ed. Wornley.

Britain Will Still Supply Arms to Iraq

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — Britain's policy of supplying arms to Iraq will remain unaffected by the decision of the Iraqi government to withdraw from the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact, a Foreign Office spokesman said today.

Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem Tuesday announced the decision to pull out of the alliance.

His move may have been intended to mollify both the pan-Arabist followers of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and the Communist bloc.

The Foreign Office spokesman said that the decision would not affect the supply of arms to Iraq.

LeMay, vice chief of the Air Force, told a divic organization Tuesday night that another crisis will find the Air Force ready with a fleet of more than 1,000 jet bombers loaded with nuclear explosives and aimed at the heart of the Communist empire from all directions.

As to arms for Iraq, Britain has been reported considering resuming shipments which were stopped when Kassem's revolt last July overthrew the pro-Western monarchy and government.

LeMay said last July Iraq's will drawn from the Baghdad Pact had been expected.

Drysdale Beats Phils; Others Go the Route

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Drysdale's "fired elbow" is wide awake.

Never took a rest Tuesday as the 25-year-old Los Angeles right-hander pitched nine shutout innings and the Dodgers upset their exhibition team to 10-3, best in the majors.

The Philadelphia Phils were the victims of Drysdale's 1-0 no-run performance, a five-hitter at Saratoga. The Phils got only two runners past first base after the fourth inning, and although the Dodgers got only three hits, a double by Wally Moon and a triple by Jim Genth in the fourth inning were enough. It was the first complete spring game by a Dodger pitcher in three years.

When Drysdale tossed at the start of the 1958 season some said it was nervousness before "home-town" fans. Don was born in Van Nuys, Calif.

Recently he brushed aside any detailed explanation of his slow start with this statement:

"My arm just wasn't in shape. I used to get tired in the elbow. That's where I feel it when my arm isn't strong. This spring I feel I passed that tired elbow stage early."

Up until Tuesday only Bob Anderson of the Chicago Cubs had pitched more innings, but Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and Pittsburgh's Vern Law made the step along with Drysdale. No American League has gone the route.

Spahn was as sharp as Drysdale, allowing only five hits in a 3-0 victory over St. Louis at St. Petersburg. The 38-year-old left-hander is the highest paid ($80,000) pitcher in baseball because he can come up with the big ones.

Law stopped the much-improved Detroit Tigers 3-1 at Lakeland, as Rocky Nelson, the perennial Milwaukee leaver, clipped in with three hits, including a home run. One of four hits off Law was a homer by Earl Harris.

Baltimore's Warren Spahn, 38, pitched a 1-0 victory over the Orioles at West Palm Beach. The Orioles, atop the "AL" spring standings with a 9-4 record, had 14 hits, including homers by Gus Triandos and Willie Tasby.

Washington hung the seventh straight defeat on Cincinnati, 7-0, as Tampa's Frank Robinson hit a grand slam home in the "Reds" sixth-run eighth after the Senators had finished scoring.

The Boston Red Sox nose-dived continued at Phoenix where the San Francisco Giants won 10-1. It was Boston's fourth straight loss after winning 10 of their first 11.

If the home court advantage holds up and it's battling a perfect 6-for-6 so far, the Syracuse Nationals will square their Eastern division series with the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Assn. playoffs tonight.

The Nets trail 2-1 in the best-of-seven scuffling to determine an Eastern NBA champion. But they're the home team tonight and — east and west — carry a visitor has won a game yet.

The St. Louis Hawks followed the pattern in taking a 2-1 lead over Minneapolis in the Western division finals Tuesday night with a 127-97 romp as Bob Pettit rammed in 39 points. The three games in the West have followed the "home team" trend without a hitch.

If they keep it up, both will go seven games and Boston will nail the Eastern title at home April 1 and St. Louis will wrap up Minneapolis 4 games to 2 on March 31 at St. Louis.

PAHOKEE, Fla. (AP)—A farm hand scaring blackbirds from a cornfield with powerful firecrackers was killed Tuesday when a box of "giant salutes" exploded under his arm.

Deputy sheriff Frank O'Connell said Lawson Wilkes lived about five minutes after the blast. A spark from Wilkes pipe apparently blew into the box, setting off all the explosives at once.

Wilkes was walking down rows of corn ready for harvest. He carried the box of firecrackers under his arm, lighting them one by one from his pipe and hurling them around the field.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Address Rosalind Russell is suing to recover $15,470 which she says the government collected in overpaid taxes.

She contended in her suit, filed Tuesday, that maintaining residences in both California and New York was a legitimate business expense in 1953. She was appearing at the time in the Broadway stage production, "Wonderful Town."

Her taxable income that year was $275,000, she said.

SEATTLE (AP)—"If I had $100,000 I'd still pull burglaries," a yellow-faced youth said Tuesday as he told how he burgled more than 100 Seattle homes after throwing rocks through the windows.

"It just sort of came natural. I used to like to throw baseballs," Walter E. Kindell, 22, told news men and police.

"I get a big thrill out of it," he said. "Like the stealth and the dark. It could easily be 100 places."

Kindell was arrested last November and admitted 103 burglaries. Because he had no prior record, sentencing was deferred for three years.

Kindell was arrested Monday night after a burglary which followed his pattern.

The alliance took its name from the Iraqi capital, where the pact was signed in 1958 by Iraq, Iran, Pakistan, Turkey and Britain. The four governments "and the United States" already had written off Iraq as a military ally.

Kassem had boycotted all past activities since his revolutionists overthrew the pro-Western monarchy last July, and the alliance's headquarters are now in Ankara, the Turkish capital.

The first reaction from the United Arab Republic was one of disdain. The semi-official Middle East News Agency repeating the old charge that the pact sought to destroy Arab nationalism, said this also was the aim of "Kassem's policy as well as the penetration of Communist imperialism into Iraq."

Nasser, has accused Kassem of joining the Communists in a campaign against the U.A.R. and Arab unity. Kassem, backed by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, has accused Nasser of fomenting the recent abortive army revolt in northern Iraq.

Diplomats said that Kassem, though publicly trying to ignore Nasser's attacks, may be feeling the pressure of the U.A.R. leader's pan-Arab movement. There was speculation that the Iraqi premier hoped to demonstrate to the Arab world that he was free of Western influence. But Kassem's communist backers in Baghdad and Moscow also have assailed the alliance with the West ever since its formation, and his withdrawal from it was certain to please them.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators looked today into charges that mobsters used labor unions as pawns in maneuvering for monopoly control of Miami area jukebox operations.

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the Labor-Management Committee hearing will center on Joseph (Joe Scootch) Indelicato and Charles Karp, whom he described as Miami racketeers and their relations with jukebox operator Joseph Mangione and others.

Among other things, Kennedy said, the hearing will show that racketeers sought variously to use the Upholsters Union, the Electrical Workers and the Teamsters in battling for complete control of Miami's jukebox industry.

Kennedy said the committee has evidence that strong arm violence was used against those who refused to bow to underworld demands.

The hearing marks another chapter in the committee's investigation of charges of a coast-to-coast plot by gangsters and corrupt labor union officials to use clubs in an lucrative jukebox and other coin machine operations.

The committee and a brief encounter Tuesday with two old underworld figures, Mickey Cohen and Fred Sica. Both ducked behind Fifth Amendment pleas when questioned about allegations of shake-downs in Los Angeles.

against George M. Seedman, a cigarette vending machine operator.

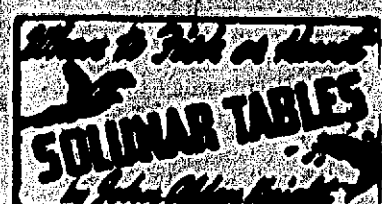

Cohen, who insists he is leading an honest life, also refused to tell whether he owes the government more than a half million dollars in income taxes, or to discuss his sources of income.

Sica, who said he was a "business man" and some business shake-downs in Los Angeles.

As for the shake-downs alleged by one witness, Cohen refused to say whether he and Sica had collected $11,000 as a price for being neutral in a trade war between Seedman and some business rivals.

SHAGGY DOG STORIES

By FARLEY MANNING National Dog Welfare Guild

Why shaggy dog stories get that name, one seems to know. Many of them have nothing to do with dogs — shaggy or otherwise.

However some of them do, and a little booklet is currently being circulated that includes some of the best. For instance:

"A man and a dog came into a bar and the man

CONVERSATION PIECE
Latest idea in telephones is this Swedish model held by Arlene Bourbeau. Dial is in its base. The new-style instrument will be installed in a Miami Beach Fla. hotel.

SPACE MAIL?—Futuristic spaceship and three Sputniks soar over Kremlin in new Soviet stamp. It's displayed at London exhibition.

BEFORE HER EYES—Mary Tomod is seeing "visions" which are thimble-size electron tubes for home, military, and industry. Under development at the RCA Harrison, N.J., plant, the compact tubes were shot by photographer from mirrored reflection through glass plate.

BOW-TIE MARTIAN—The one big eye of this daily eyepiece can see through 12 inches of steel. Unit is a radioisotope machine called, appropriately enough, "Cyclops." It's the highest capacity X-ray source machine in industry. The man positioning it got out of the blockhouse in Hillsdale, N.J., before Cyclops starts emitting dangerous gamma rays.

The first wheel was mounted on the spindle inside the drum, the round steel door closed and clamped. The second was similarly mounted in the adjoining drum. The operators pressed buttons and the revolving wheels inside gave out an increasingly high whine as the speed increased. I stood 10 feet away, beside Quincy, and watched the dials, my gaze shifting from one to the other. At a little over 14,250 the two operators shut off the testers. The whine subsided.

"They're okay," Quincy called to the two men. "Mount two more."

The next two wheels were perfect. And so were the next six. Quincy said irritably, "It was silly of Howard to order those shipments switched. These wheels are as good as the ones we took to Portage."

I didn't say anything. Maybe I'd been all wrong.

They mounted two more, closed the heavy steel doors. Once more the whine began and the needles moved across the dials, 7,000 and 8,000. At 8,200 the wheel in the right drum blew up with a vicious boom! Dust squirted out a thin aperture in the tester. Then, the second wheel let loose, and for a few seconds there was an ear-splitting clatter as the shattered chunks of abrasive bounced and rebounded inside the tester.

I looked at Quincy. He avoided my gaze and when the clatter had subsided said to the operators: "All right, boys. Shattered under stress at 8,200 SFM. Mark it down and test the rest."

The operators opened the steel doors. In the settling dust I saw that the two grinding wheels had been reduced to jagged "nubbins behind the steel flanges, and that the bulk of the wheels was dusty black rubble. I thought of Nick Pagano and said to Quincy, "How would you have liked that to happen at Portage this morning? On a grinder equipped with only a standard production guard?"

His expression was sick. The operators swept out the drums and mounted two more wheels. Quincy stepped back, holding the grip of abrasive dust between my teeth. Quincy stepped back, too.

Out of the 50 wheels, eight flew apart inside the testers, all at speeds below the standard testing speeds, and some, like the first two, below the production operating speed. When it was over, Quincy shook his head and sighed. "I can't understand it."

"You should — you're the quality man, a round 'hore'!" I looked at my wrist watch. A quarter after six. "I wonder if Logan is still here."

"Go to his office and find out," Quincy said with sudden harshness. "Spill your guts to him. Tell him I'm still goofing, and while you're at it tell him if he wants my resignation he can have it."

I said, "But why were the wheels at Portage okay?"

"How do I know?"

"I know," I said. "They were good because Portage was not supposed to get them. They were supposed to get this batch, the ones just tested. If they had gone to Portage, the account would have been lost. But far worse, another Portage worker might have been killed.

LOVE FINDS A WAY—Barbara von Nady, 19, fled to Vienna in 1956 from her native Hungary when Russian armies moved in to quash the revolt. While playing a role in a motion picture being filmed in Vienna, Barbara met another actor, Dimitry Fedotoff, a young Russian expatriate who now makes his home in Paris. The pair is shown in the French capital, where Barbara visited Dimitry after completion of the film. Now, they hear wedding bells.

"All right!" His eyes were a little wild. "What're you going to do about it?"

"Inform Logan, Masters."

"Bennett," he said roughly, "I'm a graduate ceramic engineer. I'm responsible for the quality of this company's product. I've checked and double-checked all along the line. These wheels were properly made, according to rigid specifications. There is no possible reason for them to break below the testing speed."

"But they did," I said. "Go on home to your wife. I turned away."

He grasped my arm. "What do you mean? What's my wife got to do with this?"

"Maybe she wants a mink coat, or a country club membership. I shook off his hand. "Do you know John Simmons?"

"What're you talking about? I don't know any John Simmons."

"I hope not. Goodbye. I left him standing there."

I stepped into the outer room, the secretary's office. A soft, banana-colored lamp, and a small, smiling, apron-wearing pipe-smoker. "Mr. Masters?" he called.

"Yes. Who is it?" His voice came from the inner office.

"Bennett."

"Come in, Jim."

I went in, removing my hat. He was sitting in a huge leather chair behind a massive mahogany desk, and he appeared smaller and frailer than ever. On the wall behind him was a blown-up colored photograph of his daughter, Ginny, taken maybe five or six years before. Her hair was in pig-tails

PSC Thinks Phone Rate Hike Too High

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rate experts of the Arkansas Public Service Commission think a requested $400,000 annual rate increase for General Telephone Co. of the Southwest is too high.

The PSC staff members said yesterday they agreed General Telephone needed a rate boost but they figured it ought to be about $288,000.

"I'm sorry. It was necessary. I want to talk to you."

He pointed the pipe stem at a chair beside the desk.

I sat down. Before I could speak, he said, "Congratulations."

For a second I thought that in some miraculous manner he'd learned of my engagement to Sandy Hollis, but instantly I knew that he had not, that the thought was silly. I looked at him enquiringly and waited.

High Jump Champ Injures His Foot

BOSTON (AP)—World champion high jumper John Thomas of Boston University was injured today when his left foot became jammed in a moving elevator at the school.

Dr. Chester Howe, BU physician, described Thomas' foot as "mangled."

He said the 18-year-old freshman suffered multiple lacerations and abrasions and that stitches would be required to close the injuries.

On Feb. 11 the 6 foot 5 inch, 165 pound Negro set a world's high jump record of 7-1 in the AAU Championships at Madison Square Garden, New York. The former record of 7-1 was set outdoors by Yuriy Stepanov of Russia in July, 1957. Thomas is the only man to hit seven feet indoors.

He is expected to return to school in September. He said some of the justices had children in school, and the court wanted its vacation to correspond with the school holiday.

State Court to Adjourn Earlie

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Justices of the state supreme court will begin their summer vacation a month earlier than usual this year. Chief Justice Carlton Harris said the court will recess June 1 and reconvene Aug. 24. Normally the recess starts the first Monday in July and ends the first Monday in September.
